

Mr. Bayer,

My husband said that you phoned me on Feb 7 and left a message to call "next week". I called your cell phone number this morning and left my number. I plan to be home today until late afternoon so that you can return my call. If you can also offer me the courtesy of answering some of my questions by e-mail, that would reduce the time for note-taking during a phone call.

[Mr. Calonne, I am sending you a copy of this e-mail for your information, of course, but also so that you can redirect this message to Mr. Bayer if I have used an incorrect e-mail address.]

My questions are:

Who directed you to call me?

What did he/she ask you to do?

What information do you have for me?

What questions do you have?

Does your title of Special Legal Counsel mean you are not a city employee?

Do you have your own business?

Are you associated with a law firm?

Are you associated with another organization?

What is your area of expertise?

What plans do you have to resolve this case?

With whom at city hall have you discussed the case?

Have you talked with the new Planning Director, Stephen Emslie?

I assume you have reviewed my correspondence with Lisa Grote. I feel that the plantings near my home have been singled out for unnecessarily strict enforcement. In order to find a sympathetic or at least unbiased response to my complaints I have created a webpage. I hope you will look at it. The URL is <http://leibrand.netdojo.com/paloalto/enforcement.html>.

Thank you.
